

Title: Family Medical Leave & Leave without Pay Supplemental – Guidelines & Forms

I. Introduction

The City's Personnel Policy in Article VII Sections 18 and 19 discusses the various requirements for Family Medical Leave (FMLA) and Leave without Pay. The purpose of this supplement is to provide guidance on Family Medical Leave to ensure uniform application of this policy.

II. Family Medical Leave Application

The employee should normally request Family Medical Leave in advance of the employee's or family member's condition. In these situations the employee should complete Family Medical Leave Employee Request Form.

The employee will submit this form to the employee's department head for review. The department head shall send this form to Human Resources immediately for review and processing. If the employee has submitted medical documentation for the leave this shall accompany the Family Medical Leave Employee Request Form.

Human Resources will within five working days after the receipt of the leave form notify the employee in writing if the Family Medical Leave has been approved. In situations where the onset of illness is sudden for the employee or family members the employee may not have time to request Family Medical Leave, the City will designate Family Medical Leave. The department should notify Human Resources when the employee has been out of work for three days.

III. Family Medical Review Process

Human Resources will review all Family Medical Leave requests. The first stage of the review process is the eligibility requirements and the rationale behind the leave.

If the employee is eligible for Family Medical Leave the employee will be sent by certified mail a letter outlining their Family Medical Leave rights, medical certification, and effective date of the Family Medical Leave.

IV. Family Medical Leave – Certification

The law requires that for all Family Medical Leave the employee supply medical certification. The employee should complete the certification as soon as possible and return it to Human Resources. The employee shall use the following applicable form:

Employee Forms for Family Medical Leave & Leave without Pay

(Note: Bold and Underlined Forms requires action by the employee)

- a) Family Medical Leave Employee Request Form - Initiated by the employee, reviewed by the Department Head, and approved by Human Resources.
- b) Certification of Health Care Provider for Employee's Serious Health Condition Form WH-380-E – Completed by the employee's treating physician and submitted to Human Resources. The form must be supplied to Human Resources within 15 days from the start of the Family Medical Leave
- c) Certification of Health Care Provider for Family Member's Serious Health Condition Form WH-380-F – Completed by the family member's treating physician and submitted to Human Resources. The form must be supplied to Human Resources within 15 days from the start of the Family Medical Leave
- d) Certification for Qualifying Exigency Leave Form WH-384 - Completed by the family member's treating physician and submitted to Human Resources. The form must be supplied to Human Resources within 15 days from the start of the Family Medical Leave
- e) Certification for Military Care Giver Leave Form WH 385 - Completed by the family member's treating physician and submitted to Human Resources. The form must be supplied to Human Resources within 15 days from the start of the Family Medical Leave.

V. Family Medical Leave – Leave Interactions

An employee may be paid (coordinated with the City's Vacation, Compensatory Time, and Sick Leave polices), unpaid, or a combination of paid and unpaid.

Compensatory time, comp time, is not a form of accrued paid leave that an employer may require the employee to substitute for unpaid FMLA leave. The employee may request to use his/her comp time for an FMLA leave. If the employer allows the employee to use comp time for FMLA qualifying events, the absence which is paid from the comp time is not counted against the employee's FMLA leave entitlement.

The employee will inform their department head of which form of leave they will use for Family Medical Leave.

V. Family Medical Leave – Health Insurance

All insurance deductions beyond basic coverage are the responsibility of the employee while on Family Medical Leave. If the employee has exhausted all forms of leave, Human Resources will notify the employee of the rates and due dates for insurance payments.

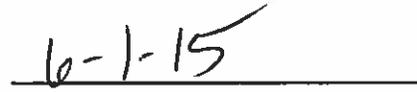

VI. Leave without Pay

The leave without pay policy will be administered in accordance with the City Personnel Policy Article VII Section 20 as it may be in effect from time to time. The leave without pay policy will be administered if possible with the needs of the employee in mind, but always in an effort not to impair City functions.

This policy is being instituted by City Management in accordance with Article I Section 8. Departmental Rules and Regulations and this Family Medical Leave procedure is a supplement to the Personnel Policy of the City of Hendersonville.

EMPLOYEE RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES UNDER THE FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT

Basic Leave Entitlement

FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible employees for the following reasons:

- for incapacity due to pregnancy, prenatal medical care or child birth;
- to care for the employee's child after birth, or placement for adoption or foster care;
- to care for the employee's spouse, son, daughter or parent, who has a serious health condition; or
- for a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job.

Military Family Leave Entitlements

Eligible employees whose spouse, son, daughter or parent is on covered active duty or call to covered active duty status may use their 12-week leave entitlement to address certain qualifying exigencies. Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, and attending post-deployment reintegration briefings.

FMLA also includes a special leave entitlement that permits eligible employees to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered servicemember during a single 12-month period. A covered servicemember is: (1) a current member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, for a serious injury or illness*; or (2) a veteran who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable at any time during the five-year period prior to the first date the eligible employee takes FMLA leave to care for the covered veteran, and who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness.*

The FMLA definitions of "serious injury or illness" for current servicemembers and veterans are distinct from the FMLA definition of "serious health condition".

Benefits and Protections

During FMLA leave, the employer must maintain the employee's health coverage under any "group health plan" on the same terms as if the employee had continued to work. Upon return from FMLA leave, most employees must be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.

Use of FMLA leave cannot result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee's leave.

Eligibility Requirements

Employees are eligible if they have worked for a covered employer for at least 12 months, have 1,250 hours of service in the previous 12 months*, and if at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

Special hours of service eligibility requirements apply to airline flight crew employees.

Definition of Serious Health Condition

A serious health condition is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee's job, or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities.

Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement may be met by a period of incapacity of more than 3 consecutive calendar days combined with at least two visits to a health care provider or one visit and a regimen of continuing treatment, or incapacity due to pregnancy, or incapacity due to a chronic condition. Other conditions may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

Use of Leave

An employee does not need to use this leave entitlement in one block. Leave can be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule when medically necessary. Employees must make reasonable efforts to schedule leave for planned medical treatment so as not to unduly disrupt the employer's operations. Leave due to qualifying exigencies may also be taken on an intermittent basis.

Substitution of Paid Leave for Unpaid Leave

Employees may choose or employers may require use of accrued paid leave while taking FMLA leave. In order to use paid leave for FMLA leave, employees must comply with the employer's normal paid leave policies.

Employee Responsibilities

Employees must provide 30 days advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable. When 30 days notice is not possible, the employee must provide notice as soon as practicable and generally must comply with an employer's normal call-in procedures.

Employees must provide sufficient information for the employer to determine if the leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that the employee is unable to perform job functions, the family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a health care provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. Employees also must inform the employer if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified. Employees also may be required to provide a certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave.

Employer Responsibilities

Covered employers must inform employees requesting leave whether they are eligible under FMLA. If they are, the notice must specify any additional information required as well as the employees' rights and responsibilities. If they are not eligible, the employer must provide a reason for the ineligibility.

Covered employers must inform employees if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and the amount of leave counted against the employee's leave entitlement. If the employer determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, the employer must notify the employee.

Unlawful Acts by Employers

FMLA makes it unlawful for any employer to:

- interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under FMLA; and
- discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or for involvement in any proceeding under or relating to FMLA.

Enforcement

An employee may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor or may bring a private lawsuit against an employer.

FMLA does not affect any Federal or State law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any State or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights.

FMLA section 109 (29 U.S.C. § 2619) requires FMLA covered employers to post the text of this notice. Regulation 29 C.F.R. § 825.300(a) may require additional disclosures.
